

INTERNSHIP (homebased or Munich/D)

Area: Gender and Sustainable Development

Date: asap (for 3 to 6 months)

Background

Women Engage for a Common Future (WECF) with five offices in Germany, the Netherlands, France, Switzerland and Georgia is an international network of over 150 women's rights and gender equality, environmental and health organisations, implementing projects in about 50 countries and advocating globally for a gender just and sustainable world for all. We are looking for a dedicated intern to support our gender equality and sustainability team.

Tasks

- Supporting the team with research on issues of gender and sustainability;
- Supporting the team in developing publications and training materials;
- Participation in meetings via skype and/or in the German office.

Qualifications:

- Student of environmental or sustainable management, gender equality, women's and human rights or similar field;
- Ability to work independently;
- Interest in gender equality issues and sustainable development (SDGs);
- Good communication skills;
- Excellent knowledge of English and German (Russian is an asset).

What WECF Offers:

- Experience of working in an international NGO environment;
- Direct involvement in various programmes' and advocacy work;
- Networking possibilities within the office and within the organisation as well as partner organisations.

Application:

If you are interested please send a short letter of motivation, your CV and a short writing example (between 500 and 800 words in English) to Dr. Anke Stock, WECF e.V., anke.stock@wecf.org. For further information visit our website: www.wecf.org.